CanNorth Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

CanNorth is committed to protecting the health and safety of our employees and community, while maintaining our ability to deliver high quality services to our clients. We realize our services are vital to numerous industries and we remain highly dedicated to our clients and projects during this pandemic.

To help “flatten the curve” and protect our staff and communities, we have implemented numerous measures, including but not limited to:

- continually creating guidance and policies based on recommendations from health authorities and applicable government agencies;
- restricting all business travel outside of fieldwork;
- enabling staff to work at home and hold meetings by teleconference;
- providing staff with guidance on items such as prevention measures, safe work practice protocols for field activities, and vehicle and equipment sanitization;
- providing field staff with sanitizers and protective equipment;
- creating a COVID-19 daily fit for work assessment form;
- implementing client specific protocols; and
- addressing staff mental health through ongoing communication and hosting fun activities such as a “best home office” contest.

We realize this is a challenging time and we want to make a difference. We are particularly engaged in supporting the community members of our owners, the Lac La Ronge Indian Band, through monetary and food donations.

Our thoughts are with the people that have been most affected by this pandemic and our immense gratitude goes out to essential front line workers. This is a crisis that involves everyone and CanNorth is doing our part to contribute to a successful resolution.
